At Walmart, we believe no one in America should ever go hungry. We do not just want to address hunger. We want to end it.
Which is why we are bringing our size, scale and business expertise to the issue

- Healthy Food Donations
- Sustainability: Greening the Food Banks
- Nutrition Education for Low-Income Families
- Associate Volunteerism: Giving of Time and Skills
- Customers Involved in Our Giving

Hunger 360°
In May 2010, Walmart made a $2 billion commitment to help fight hunger in America through 2015.

- We are donating more than 1.1 billion pounds of food from Walmart stores, distribution centers and Sam’s Club locations, valued at $1.75 billion;

- We are giving $250 million in grants to support hunger relief organizations at the national, state and local levels;

- We are mobilizing Walmart associates and customers. For example, our logistics team will lend their expertise to help food banks become more efficient in their operations; and

- We are collaborating with government, food manufacturers and other corporations that are fighting hunger to increase impact and reach a greater number of families in need.
In-Kind Giving

Delivering fresh food daily to our partners.

• Every day, food banks and kitchens struggle to stock fresh foods.

Walmart stores around the country deliver fresh foods, fruits and vegetables directly to our local partners.

Last year, Walmart donated 256 million pounds of food to our food bank partners.

• How much is 256 million pounds? – nearly twice the weight of the aircraft carrier USS Ronald Reagan.*

Hunger & Healthy Foods

“We don’t think the Wal-Mart shopper should have to choose between a product that is healthier for them and what they can afford.”

Food insecurity isn’t just about families who turn to food banks.

Together, with our commitment to end hunger, Walmart is making the food we sell healthier and more affordable.

"It's a victory for parents. It's a victory for families, but most of all, it's a victory for our children."

-- First Lady Michelle Obama
Key Elements: Healthier Foods Initiative

By 2015, Walmart will:

• Reformulate thousands of everyday packaged food items
  – Improves nutritional quality of national food brands in key product categories
    • Lower sodium by 25%
    • Eliminate industrially added transfats
    • Lower added sugars by 10%

• Make healthier choices more affordable
  – Saves customers approximately $1 billion per year on fresh fruits and vegetables

• Develop strong criteria for a simple front-of-package seal
  – Allows consumers to instantly identify truly healthier food options

• Provide solutions to address food deserts by building stores
  – Provides underserved communities with more fresh and affordable groceries in their neighborhoods.

• Increase charitable support for nutrition programs
  – Educates consumers about healthier food solutions and choices.
